The Little Red Hen

OXFORD

Here is the little red hen.
And here are her friends –
Cat, Duck, and Goose.

‘Look!’ says the little red hen. ‘Seeds!
Wheat seeds! Let’s plant them!
Come on! Who can help me?’

‘Come on! Who can help me?’
says the little red hen.

‘I can’t,’ says Cat. ‘I want to sleep.’

‘Who can help me?’
says the little red hen.

‘I can’t,’ says Duck. ‘I want to play in the water.’

‘Come on!’ says the little red hen. ‘Who can help me?’
‘I can’t,’ says Goose. ‘I want to sit in the sun.’

All right.

‘All right,’ says the little red hen.
And she does all the work. She plants all the seeds.

‘The seeds want water. Who can help me?’ says the little red hen.

The seeds want water.

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Cat. ‘I don’t like water.’

‘Come on!’ says the little red hen. ‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Duck.
‘I want my lunch.’

Who can help me?

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Goose. ‘I want a walk.’

'All right,' says the little red hen.
And she does all the work.

The sun is warm. The wheat grows.
It grows big and green.

The sun is hot. And now the wheat is yellow.

We can cut it now.

‘Look!’ says the little red hen.
‘The wheat is yellow. We can cut it now. Who can help me?’

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Cat. ‘I want to play.’

Who can help me?

I can't.

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Duck.

‘I want my lunch.’

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Goose. ‘I want to play.’

‘All right,’ says the little red hen.
And she does all the work. She cuts all the wheat.

'Let's grind this wheat,'
says the little red hen.
'Let's grind it into flour.
Who can help me?'

'I can't,' says Cat.
'I want some milk.'

Who can help me?

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Duck.

‘I want to sleep.’

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Goose.

‘I want a drink.’

'All right,' says the little red hen.
And she does all the work. She grinds the wheat into flour.

All right.

‘We can make bread,’ says the little red hen. ‘We can make some bread with this flour.’

‘Come on!’ says the little red hen.
‘Who can help me?’
‘I can’t,’ says Cat. ‘I want to sleep.’

‘Come on!’ says the little red hen.

‘Who can help me?’

‘I can’t,’ says Duck. ‘I want to go in the garden.’

'Who can help me?'
says the little red hen.
'I can't,' says Goose.
'I want to sit and wash.'

I want to sit and wash.

'All right,' says the little red hen.
And she does all the work. She makes all the bread.

‘This bread looks good!’ says the little red hen. ‘It’s time to eat the bread. Who can help me?’

It's time to eat the bread.

‘I can!’ says Cat.

‘I can!’ says Duck.

‘I can!’ says Goose.

But the little red hen thinks.
'No!' she says. 'You can't!
Off you go! Go away and play!'

And she eats all the bread.
All ... all ... all the bread.
